Monday, October 13

Party idea: Invite over 10 kids in their PJ's at 8 am for breakfast. Aaaaaaghhh! Is what most people would say, but not anymore. Why? Because Westport resident, mom and food lover Jennifer Balin of Sugar and Olives turns any meal into a party. So whether you choose breakfast, lunch, tea or dinner, Jennifer will work with you to plan a suitable menu that she will teach the kids to prepare. Using whole grains, no trans fats, and produce from local farms, the kids will make and eat a healthy, fun meal. You get a custom party with no fuss since Jennifer brings everything you need, shows up 30 minutes in advance to set up and cleans up the aftermath.

The party includes all ingredients and help needed for an interactive cooking lesson/demo for up to 16 kids, drinks, goody bags with nostalgic candy, personalized aprons and treats made at the party, 12 balloons (you choose 2 colors), chefs hats to be decorated at the start of the party by the children, and invitations.

The cost per child is $55 for 10. There is an extra charge for parties over 10 kids.

Jennifer will provide a custom cake that is truly incredible. As her cakes are highly personalized to meet the specific requests of each customer, they are offered at an additional cost.

Worth mentioning is that Sugar and Olives offers cooking classes for children and adults as well as instructional dinner parties for adults (similar in concept to the kids parties).
